

Guardia™ AccessET

CURVED EMBRYO TRANSFER CATHETER

Improve uterine access and embryo placement.

Cook Medical now offers you even more choices in embryo transfer. The Guardia AccessET combines the benefits of a precurved guiding catheter with the advantage of EchoTip® technology. The echogenic tip allows the catheter to be seen more clearly under ultrasound, which means that embryos can be transferred with greater accuracy.

The Guardia AccessET also features Microvol™ technology, which decreases the volume of media required for transfer, reducing the chance of embryo migration and optimizing chances for successful implantation.

Cook Medical—Simplifying procedures for patients and clinicians.

FEATURES AND BENEFITS

- Echogenic tip improves visibility.
- Precurved guiding catheter facilitates insertion.
- Atraumatic bulb tip eases passage through cervix.
- Soft, flexible transfer catheter minimizes endometrial trauma.
- Microvol technology reduces volume of medium required.
